

QMII Celebrates 36 years!

For over 30 years, we've put our clients' needs first. We desire not to be the biggest, rather the most supportive.

With God's grace and each of your contributions, QMII celebrates this milestone of the 36th year of being in business.

The QMII team's commitment to each other, to our alumni and our clients has enabled QMII to achieve this goal. In these 36 years, QMII has achieved Global recognition with clients across continents. We have grown from a company focused on process-based systems to one that drives positive change for its clients in all aspects of the work we do.

We are humbled by the continued trust placed in QMII by the US Coast Guard, US Army, US Marine Corps, US Navy, US Air Force and many other federal agencies. It is an honor and a privilege to support them in achieving their missions. I am privileged and proud to have you on board with me as we head into our 37th year.

with your support QMII will continue to achieve and exceed our client's expectations. For our success is the success of our clients. We celebrate because our clients and alumni are satisfied and appreciative of our ethics, hard work, total commitment, and dedication to their goals.

Thank you for being part of this wonderful, successful, journey. Congratulations on these achievements and wishing QMII and each of you the very best.

- Dr. IJ Arora, President and CEO.

Think Like An Auditor

By: Destinee Nelson

Why does one become an auditor? What makes a good auditor? These are some of the questions that one may have in mind when it comes to auditing. "ISO auditors can't look at everything. As a result, they've been trained to look for key indicators that reflect the overarching quality standards for an entire organization. Optimizing for these indicators will ensure that your audit goes smoothly and that you've presented the best version of your quality management system." (Jette, 2022).

QMII welcomes any alumni to share their experiences with us whether it be auditing, training, or consulting. We take pride in your dedication to learning and appreciate it when you share to help others enhance their careers. As QMII alumni, your input is appreciated, and we encourage you to come to us whenever you need to. Recently, one of our alumni provided feedback on his experience as an auditor with a positive perspective on auditing and the key factors involved with the profession.
